

Miss Cassel, Lacking Only One Point for Victory, Defaults Tennis Match

Favorite for Indoor Title Withdraws in Second Set

Probable Finalist, Arm Injured, Stops Playing Against Mrs. Pritchard; Mrs. Waring Defeated in 2½-Hour Struggle; Boston Entries Move Up

By Fred Hawthorne

There were plenty of incidents to hold the attention of the gallery yesterday at the 7th Regiment Armory, where the women's annual indoor lawn tennis championship is being played, and one of the most inspiring of these was the splendid sportsmanship shown by Miss Cassel, figured as a probable finalist for the title now held by Mrs. George W. Wightman, of Boston.

Playing against Mrs. William H. Pritchard, of the New York Tennis Club, Miss Cassel took the first set 6-3, and was leading in the second at 7-6 on games and "vantage, on her own service, when she defaulted the match, needing only one point for victory, a point that she seemed fairly certain of winning.

But the Pennsylvania state champion had been experiencing trouble with her arm all through the match, and it grew worse toward the end. A twisted ligament, an injury received early last season, was the cause. Miss Cassel realized she would be unable to play through the tournament under the conditions, and so rather than try for a win she very gracefully left the match.

Mrs. Pritchard's game was very good all the way, and toward the end of the second set she was growing stronger and whipping her drives through deep court with an accuracy and "pace" that compelled Miss Cassel to travel at top speed all the way. The latter's volleying was excellent, and she knew how to handle the ball overhand, a thing few women can do successfully. It was a pretty struggle while it lasted, and the pity is that Miss Cassel was obliged to retire just when victory seemed in her grasp.

Mrs. Stenz Causes Upset
Mrs. Bernard G. Stenz, a player who has been seen too little of late on local courts, scored an upset on form when she took the measure of Mrs. Samuel H. Waring, of the New York Tennis Club, in a stirring three-set match that lasted for more than two hours and a half. It was a case of steadiness and surpassing accuracy on the part of Mrs. Stenz pitted against the same qualities in Mrs. Waring, and that the former finally won was due to the fact that her stamina was a bit better and her nerves steadier than her opponent's.

In the opening set Mrs. Waring ran into a lead of 4-1 on games. She had her shots under perfect control, whereas Mrs. Stenz was inclined to waver a bit in some of the fierce driving rallies from the back line. Barely had a women's match in this tournament brought out a better demonstration of hard and accurate forehand driving.

But Mrs. Stenz began to acquire control of her ground strokes in the latter half of the first set, and the tide turned swiftly in her favor. She varied her deep driving attack with cleverly employed change of pace, suddenly switching from this to shots played softly into midcourt, so that Mrs. Waring was often tricked out of position. After many stirring rallies, Mrs. Stenz took the set at 6-7, and appeared to be well on the road to victory.

But Mrs. Waring, a more determined player, was not yet ready to acknowledge herself vanquished. Both girls covered court with surprising speed and thoroughness and some of the "sets" were little less than remarkable. Once more it was Mrs. Stenz's turn to waver, and her opponent squared the match by winning the second set at 6-3.

After the rest period they renewed the struggle with added speed and Mrs. Stenz eventually took the third set at 6-3 giving her the victory.

Visiting Players Advance
Next to the two matches I have mentioned in detail above probably the most striking feature of the day's play was the success of the two Boston stars, Miss Lella Hancock, and Miss Edith Seymour. Miss Hancock defeated Mrs. Helen Bernhard Wolf, at 6-0, 6-0, in the third round, while Miss Seymour took the measure of Miss Martha Bayard, of Short Hills, N. J., by a score of 6-1, 6-0, in the same brackets.

Miss Hancock's was the more impressive, considering the opposition she faced. Mrs. Wolf was one of the leading players in the metropolitan district up to the time of her temporary retirement from tournament play, some two years ago, yet she was unable to win a single game from the hard-hitting Boston girl. The latter's left-handed, so that she was rarely obliged to take Mrs. Wolf's returns on her backhand, and her own forehand drives, with a most useful "top" on the ball, came at Mrs. Wolf's head and accurately took the loser when out of position.

Miss Seymour was by far too experienced an opponent for Miss Bayard, and although the slender, flax-haired schoolgirl brought off many brilliant shots from back court she was never a match for the Boston girl.

Another of the juniors tasted defeat when Miss Ceres Baker, the New Jersey schoolgirl, went down before the severe hitting of Miss Ceres Wain, at 6-2, 6-2. Miss Helene Pollak, Middle States champion, swept swiftly through her match with Mrs. Percy Wilbourn, the sets going at 6-0, 6-1, as Miss Pollak drove with relentless speed and deadly accuracy for the lines. Mrs. Wilbourn appeared badly

Four Favorites Finish in Front; Meeting at Jefferson Park Closes To-day

By A. C. Cavagnaro

Failure to adhere to his usual style of running when attempting a record performance accounted for Jole Ray's failure to smash the indoor two-thirds-of-a-mile American record at the games of the Samacra Athletic Association held in the 22d Regiment Armory last night.

The Illinois A. C. athlete loafed back of a slow pace during the first half of the race, and all his own killing pace thereafter failed to bring him inside of the standard. His time was 2 minutes 44.5 seconds.

This effort is the one of a second slower than the American indoor record established last Wednesday by M. A. Devaney. Milrose A. A., at the games of the Frank B. Whitney Post, American Legion, in Newark, N. J., was not Ray's chief object to erase Devaney's effort, but to break the outdoor record of 2:44.25 held by Mel Sheppard. Ray was confident of clipping it by four seconds, and would have been successful if he had shown his usual headwork.

An indication that Ray faced a hopeless task was given when the field was clocked at the first quarter-mile post in 55 seconds, and the half-mile in 2:08.25. Ray took matters into his own hands from here on.

The times returned by three timers were: Captain Charles J. Dieges, 2:44.35; John J. Dolan, 2:43.45; and H. G. Summers, a former English runner, 2:45. As is customary the middle time of 2:44.45 was agreed on.

Following Ray, five yards back, came Sidney Leslie, Milrose A. A., who gave his best exhibition of the indoor season.

Leslie actually threatened Ray on the final lap, forcing the Chicago boy to greater speed to maintain the lead. Leslie weakened only in the final fifty yards.

Harry Wigger, Paulist A. C., was third, some thirty yards in the wake of Leslie, while Allen Swede, Princeton University, the only other starter, was also far in the rear. Wigger set the pace for the field until Ray took command. The pack then ran bunched for some twenty yards, when Ray forced a faster pace, which only Leslie could follow.

The 300-yard run, invitation, for the Colonel McAlpin trophy found Loren Murchison, New York A. C. American champion at the distance, winning his second "leg" on the prize. Murchison, as usual, outbroke his field by several yards at the start, and this had much to do with his victory.

Homier Baker, another Glencoe runner, had his field dizzy in the half-mile special run. He remained back of Eliot Balestier, the pacemaker, until two laps from home, when he assumed the lead, to win by fifty yards. Charles Shaw, of Columbia, came through with a fine sprint to nip Egbert G. Driscoll, Yale University, near the tape and take second place.

C. G. Waldo, the former senior champion, would have had a fine season had he not slipped up on the sixteenth and eighteenth holes, which cost him two 7s. His drive on the last hole was the best of the day, but he promptly put the ball into the sand and required two shots to get out.

The last score to get in was 91. A. W. Wallace, of Detroit; W. A. Smith Jr., Grand Rapids, and Milton Wilson, of Onondaga, tied at this figure. In the draw Smith lost out and went in the second sixteen. The summary:

Championship flight—Ellsworth Augustus, Mayfield, 75; George B. Morse, Rutland, 74; R. W. Harwood, Philadelphia, 73; C. H. Hanson, Buffalo, 72; L. Pierce, Clearwater, 87; C. G. Waldo, Detroit, 88; T.
